

DAILY EXPRESS

May 21 - 27, 2005

Saturday

Win!

We have two Saabs to give away

With seven-day
TV and radio
listings

SAT2437286

Your Lucky Number

Big Brother is back

Davina McCall is revved up and raring to go

Joanna Lumley on growing old gracefully ★ Win a holiday for two in Cyprus

Circulation: 936,407

21st May 2005

This week we'll be...

Reading Jools Oliver's heart-warming story of how the wife of celebrity chef Jamie adapted to her long-desired role of motherhood, after undergoing hormone treatment for Polycystic Ovarian Syndrome. Her first book, Minus Nine To One - The Diary Of An Honest Mum, published this Thursday by Penguin (£14.99), is a revealing account of the emotions she underwent after giving birth to her first daughter, Poppy, and the shock of conceiving her second child, Daisy, naturally a year later.

Marianne Faithfull live at the Salisbury Festival

Booking

Tickets for the Nokia Isle Of Wight Festival, which takes place from June 10-12. Jimi Hendrix made his last ever performance at the historic event 35 years ago, before promoters were forced to pull the plug. It was revived in 2002 and this year boasts an impressive line-up featuring R.E.M., Razorlight, Roxy Music and Ray Davies. For more information, visit www.isleofwightfestival.org.

Chelsea Flower Show begins on Tuesday branch of Pringle Of Scotland on Wednesday. Call 0800 161 3342 for details.

Joining

Gwyneth Paltrow in wearing the new 'backing life' charity bracelet to raise money for London's first Maggie's Cancer Caring Centre, at Charing Cross Hospital.

The actress, who lost her father Bruce to throat cancer, says, "I got involved because I have known and lost many loved ones to cancer, and saw first hand how terrifying and isolating it can be." Bracelets cost £5 and are available exclusively at LK Bennett stores.

Call 020 7385 1059 to order.

Gwyneth wears Maggie's bracelets...

Catch Val Kilmer's West End debut

Immersing

ourselves in the Salisbury International Arts Festival, from Friday until June 12. Artists attending include Marianne Faithfull, who will perform classics and songs from her latest album, Before The Poison, with the Sarum Orchestra and Festival Chorus. Michael Palin also leads a new literature programme. Visit www.salisburyfestival.co.uk for more information.

Listening

to Coldplay's first single for two years, Speed Of Sound, which is released on Monday. The CD single also includes two extra tracks, Proof and Things I Don't Understand, that were originally due to appear on the band's long-awaited third album X&Y, out on June 6. Next month the band, fronted by Gwyneth Paltrow's husband Chris Martin (below), also begin a six-date UK tour. Visit www.coldplay.com.

...while Chris' band release their new single Speed Of Sound on Monday

Must-see movie

Paris Hilton appears in the remake of 1953 horror movie House Of Wax, released this Friday, certificate 15. The American socialite plays college student Paige Edwards, one of a group of friends on a road trip that goes awry when they wander into a weird museum. Elisha Cuthbert, of 24 fame, also stars.

Retail therapy

TV presenter Donna Air is a fan of new organic lifestyle company Tatty Bumpkin, whose fun, ethically produced range is perfect for her two-year-old daughter Freya. Tatty's founder, Sam Petter, began selling children's clothing, toiletries and toys in January. The popular Kisses And Cream first aid kit, comprising four travel tins of soothing balms to help heal cuts and bruises, recently won an award at the Natural And Organic Products Show. Tatty Bumpkin is stocked in selected boutiques nationwide. Visit www.tattybumpkin.com.

EDITED BY DENISE DUNK. (denise.dunk@express.co.uk)

PHOTOGRAPHS: REX FEATURES; GETTY IMAGES